

«Dr. Fridtjof Nansen»

The fishery research vessel «Dr. Fridtjof Nansen» belongs to the Norwegian Agency for International Development (NORAD). It was designed and built for scientific and exploratory investigations of fishery resources of developing countries, under a joint plan with the Fisheries Department of FAO based on a funding of operation to be shared by FAO and Norway.

B.Nr:115. F/S Dr. FRIDTJOF NANSEN ble overlevert 12 Oktober 1974 til Havforskningsinstituttet i Bergen. I 1974 hadde Russland allerede ett forskningsskip som het Fridtjof Nansen, derfor ble Dr. lagt til her. Lengde: 46,45, bredde 10,30 meter og 491 bruttotonn. Hovedmotoren fra Normo yter 1500 bhk, og gir båten en fart på 13,5 knop. September 1993: Solgt til Eurotri Ltd., Kingstown, St. Vincent & Grenad, nytt navn EUROTRI I. 1996: Solgt Antrim Co. Ltd., Kingstown, St. Vincent & Grenadines, nytt navn ROYA. 1998: Solgt Tananger Offshore A/S, Kingstown, St.Vincent & Grenadines,nytt navn: DR. NANSEN Januar 2005: Solgt Delta Nav. Ltd (Alyans Chartering & Shipping Co) Kingstown, nytt navn NOMAD 2010: Overført til Delta Nav.Ltd (Axis Havacilik ve Turizm) Kingstown, St. Vincent & Grenadines 00/2020: Fremdeles i fart.

B. No: 115. F/S Dr. FRIDTJOF NANSEN was handed over on 12 October 1974 to the Marine Research Institute in Bergen. In 1974, Russia already had one research ship named Fridtjof Nansen, therefore Dr. was added here. Length: 46.45, width 10.30 meters and 491 gross tonnes. The main engine from Normo produces 1,500 bhp, and gives the boat a speed of 13.5 knots. September 1993: Sold to Eurotri Ltd., Kingstown, St. Vincent & Grenad, renamed EUROTRI I. 1996: Sold Antrim Co. Ltd., Kingstown, St. Vincent & Grenadines, renamed ROYA. 1998: Sold Tananger Offshore A/S, Kingstown, St.Vincent & Grenadines, new name: DR. NANSEN. January 2005: Sold to Delta Nav. Ltd (Alyans Chartering & Shipping Co) Kingstown, renamed NOMAD. 2010: Transferred to Delta Nav. Ltd (Axis Havacilik ve Turizm) Kingstown, St. Vincent & Grenadines 00/2020: Put in service/ Still running.